

Chuck Udell, MAAP is a senior partner with the Essential Action Design Group. He is the former president of University of the Aftermarket - an operating division of Northwood University. As university president, he was responsible for working with a team of key industry leaders to develop Leadership 2010, the University of the Aftermarket's Executive Development Program. Before the formation of the University of the Aftermarket, he was president of AWDA University, the education division of the Automotive Warehouse Distributors Association (AWDA). Udell joined AWDA in 1992. He received his MBA from the University of Rochester, in finance and marketing and his B.S. at the University of Virginia.